I am a practical-orientated financial expert who enjoys creative problem solving in both seemingly simple and complex cases. I tackle challenges head-on while maintaining a high level of prudence. My experience in family law both in the litigation setting and collaborative law setting make me uniquely able to guide clients through a very difficult time in their lives. In addition, my work history in business valuations, public accounting, private accounting, financial planning, investment banking, and as a broker enable me to offer insights and creative solutions to every case. As of February 2018, I have been involved in over 100 collaborative cases.

Profession: Business valuation, litigation support services, forensic accounting

Credentials: Certified Business Appraiser (CBA)
Certified Valuation Analyst (CVA)
Master Analyst in Financial Forensics (MAFF)

Experience: With over 19 years of business valuation and litigation support experience (mostly in family law, but some outside), I have completed in excess of 600 business valuations for privately held companies. I have also worked for a major financial planning/brokerage firm, five (5) years in public accounting with a major CPA firm in the Tampa Bay area, worked with a boutique investment banking firm specializing in debtor-in-possession transactions, and have worked four (4) years in private accounting as the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) for various privately held corporations (including Orlando Harley-Davidson®). This experience has exposed me to a wide variety of industries and specialties.

Education: University of Florida MBA, concentration in Finance
BSBA, Finance and Management
